

Lansing Girl Missing; Abductor Identified

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Police said today the owner of a gift shop from which 16-year-old Laurie Murningham was kidnapped Thursday has identified the abductor from a mug shot in police files.

Police refused to release the name of the suspect.

The gift shop owner, Christine Gallagher, helped police artists prepare a composite drawing of the man who pistol-whipped and robbed her of about $60 and forced Laurie to accompany him.

Abductor Recognized
Police used this composite to search their mug shot files and while Mrs. Gallagher was looking through these, police said, she recognized one as the abductor. "That's the man," police quoted her as saying before she broke down weeping.

The man sought reportedly has been jailed in Lansing and it was not known where he resides.

Miss Murningham is the daughter of Max E. Murningham, mayor of Lansing from 1965 to 1969. He and his wife have three other children.

Massive Search On
Murningham has continued a day and night vigil at the Lansing police station that began with his daughter's abduction. Police authorities have mounted ground and air searches for the missing girl. A house-to-house search and scouring by scores of police of backyards, vacant lots and buildings, garages and bushes in about a third of the city also failed to turn up a clue, according to Lansing Mayor Gerald Graves. A group of anonymous donors has offered a $5,000 reward for the girl's safe return.

The FBI entered the search Friday after Miss Murningham failed to reappear after 24 hours.

Unique Child
"Laurie is a unique child," Murningham said of his daughter. "She's a level-headed, bright and articulate girl and she's cautious. She is thoughtful and would consider all the causes and effects of her actions."

Miss Murningham is described as 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing about 130 pounds, with shoulder-length, sandy-brown hair. She was wearing an unusual peasant-type outfit, with a red skirt and a white blouse with puffy sleeves.

Abductor Colored
Her abductor is described as Negro, between 20 and 25, about 6 feet, 170 pounds, with a goatee and mustache and dressed in a yellow knit shirt and dark slacks.

In another development, a 41-year-old Flint man was arrested in Flint, 45 miles northeast of Lansing, and charged with obtaining $200 under the pretext of returning the missing girl.

Police said a warrant has been issued charging the man with extortion, which carries a maximum penalty of 2 years. His name was withheld pending his arraignment in Flint District Court.

Demanding $500
Police said the man had telephoned the Murninghams early Friday and demanded $500 for the return of their daughter. He was taken into custody in a Flint bar after police placed $200 near a drinking fountain in Flint.

Police said he apparently had no connection with the kidnapping.

Senate Scene Of 'Tonkin' Replay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the derisive, tongue-in-cheek moaning of Republicans, the Senate has voted to repeal the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution for the second time in less than a month.

And once again there was extensive debate, albeit in a lighter vein, as the Tonkin measure was re-referred 57-5 and sent to the House.

An earlier repealer was attached to the military sales bill.

Viet Prisoners Given Release

SAIGON (AP) — Two junks carrying 62 prisoners of war and 24 fishermen reached North Vietnam today, completing the biggest repatriation of captives of the Vietnam war.

All of the prisoners threw off their clothing, duffle bags and gifts given them by the Saigon government as they boarded the boats, cast off from a South Vietnamese landing ship and departed at full speed for the six-mile run to shore.

A South Vietnamese spokesman reported that the two motorized junks "were observed reaching the shore" at Cu Tung village, just north of the Ben Hai River and the 17th parallel that divides North and South Vietnam.

Associated Press Correspondent Jay Sharbutt, aboard the South Vietnamese landing ship Vung Tau, reported that no incidents occurred and no North Vietnamese patrol craft were in sight as the prisoners headed homeward under a 15-hour cease-fire declared by the Saigon government over a 103-square mile area of coastal land and sea.

The 86 returnees included POWs who were sick and disabled, most of them paraplegics. In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian military high command said the Communists attacked the plush mountain-top resort of Kiri Rom, which besides government troop installations includes villas and hotels frequented by Cambodia's wealthy —now subject of a Senate-House conference—at the urging of Sen. Robert J. Dole, a Kansas Republican and a key defender of administration war policy.

Dole's move was aimed at giving the administration credit for disposing of the resolution, which former President Johnson used as authority for escalating the Vietnam war.

But Senate doves, original planners of the repeal, were rankled at Dole's theft and insisted upon doing it all over again on their own terms.

Republicans mocked the replay, obviously delighted at having forced the tactical turn of events.

"I have been in the Senate for 16 years and I thought I had seen pretty much everything," deadpanned Republican Gordon Allott of Colorado, "but this is truly remarkable."

"It's another form of yoga," cracked Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

After a while even Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chief backer of the separate repealer, got into the spirit and counterattacked with a flurry of clichés.

Examples:

Dole: I might observe that we could talk until the cows come home—they were mentioned in the last debate—but it probably is not necessary that we have extended debate on this matter.

Fulbright: Talk to the cows.

Dole: Until the cows come home.

Fulbright: I have no intention of talking to the cows until the cows come home, whenever that may be.

Scott: Or until the chickens come home to roost.

Italians Regroup In Plans To Form New Government

ROME (AP) — Giulio Andreotti, the Christian Democrat leader in the Italian Chamber of Deputies was called in to consult with President Giuseppe Saragat today to try to form a new government.

Political sources indicated Andreotti would be appointed immediately as premier-designate.

Andreotti has held a record number of ministerial posts since World War II, but he never has been appointed premier-designate.

A staunch Catholic who once opposed the center-left alliance of Marxists and Roman Catholics, Andreotti was expected to seek a cabinet to replace that of Mariano Rumor, who resigned suddenly last Monday.

Fiscal Budget Doubles That Of Prediction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indicators are pointing to a deficit in the budget for fiscal 1970 that will be almost twice as high as the White House predicted less than two months ago.

$3 Billion In Red
At that time, President Nixon's economists foresaw a $1.8 billion deficit for the fiscal period just ended June 30. Now, sources say, it looks like the tally will be $3 billion in the red.

And the forecast for the fiscal 1971 figures are even gloomier.

Administration sources said Friday a steep drop in corporation income tax collections, because of falling corporate profits, has clouded the budget outlook.

Final Figures Due
The final figures for the fiscal period just over—the first for which Nixon carries the full responsibility—are due in about ten days.

Officials feel the spending total will hit just below $198 billion, slightly under a revised figure of $198.2 put forward in May. The expected lower figure

GI Withdrawal From S. Korea Confab Topic

SEOUL, (AP) — The United States and South Korea opened formal talks today in Seoul on reduction in U.S. troop strength in Korea.

Spokesmen for both sides said the talks were preliminary consultations dealing primarily with military considerations.

Korean Premier Chung Il-Kwon told the National Assembly the talks would continue for a few days.

He did not say where the talks were being held, but Korean sources said the first session was held at the Yongsan U.S. military reservation.

The premier also told the lawmakers the United States has said it planned to withdraw 20,000 men of the 64,000 men it now has in Korea.

He said his government will press for measures to modernize the Korean armed forces during the coming five years.

John F. Cannon, spokesman for the U.S. Embassy here, said that in view of the nature of the talks, military officers of U.S. forces in Korea will be designated to confer with their Korean counterparts.

He said it was not presently planned that U.S. officials from outside Korea would attend the consultations.

Hanoi Gets Letter About Human Decency

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move to demonstrate a united front on the prisoner of war issue, 87 senators have signed a letter to Hanoi expressing outrage over the treatment of U.S. soldiers held captive in North Vietnam.

Bayh Initiates Plans
The letter, initiated by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., criticized North Vietnam for "the persistent callous attitude manifested toward United States personnel missing in action and the inhumane treatment of United States prisoners detained in Southeast Asia."

Bayh said the purpose is to show Hanoi that while the Senate may disagree on U.S. war policies, it is united on calling for humane treatment of prisoners.

Release Suggested

"It is also our belief that release of all American prisoners would be a most significant step toward bringing peace in Southeast Asia," Bayh said.

The letter, circulated by Bayh in Senate offices before being sent, was addressed to Premier Pham Van Dong.

It said, "In obvious disregard of human decency, the Democratic Republic of Vietnam continually has refused to adhere to basic humanitarian obligations concerning detained prisoners."

Bayh said he hoped the letter might have some impact on Hanoi in convincing the North Vietnamese to abide by the Geneva Convention regarding prisoners.

Some Fail To Sign

Bayh's office said senators who failed to sign the letter either weren't available at the time or said they had already signed similar letters.

Meanwhile, House Speaker John W. McCormack told relatives of captured and missing U.S. soldiers he would seriously consider their effort to get a joint session of Congress on the POW issue.

Mrs. Sybil Stockdale of Coronado, Calif., spokesman for a group which visited the speaker, told reporters that the speaker told them during the private session: "You can say I will give it serious consideration."

Israeli Planes Pound Egyptian Gun Batteries

By The Associated Press
Israeli warplanes pounded Egyptian artillery emplacements and bunkers today along the southern sector of the Suez Canal and all aircraft returned safely, the Israeli military command announced.

In Beirut, Lebanon, the apartment of one of the top leaders of the Marxist Popular Front for the liberation of Palestine (PFLP) was hit by three rockets early today.

The leader, Dr. Wadie Elias Haddad, escaped unhurt but his wife and 7-year-old son were wounded slightly.

Police said the rockets were fired from an empty apartment in a building about 400 yards away. Several rocket launchers were found abandoned in the flat, police said.

There was police speculation that the rockets may have been aimed at another prominent PFLP member instead of Dr. Haddad. Police said Leyla Khalid, the girl guerrilla who last year hijacked a Trans World Airlines plane to Damascus and then blew it up on the ground, was in Haddad's apartment until an hour before the attack.

Soviets, U.S. Closing Middle East Peace Gap

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has edged closer to the U.S. position on three elements of an Arab-Israeli peace plan but the two superpowers remain far apart on terms for an overall settlement, informed diplomats disclosed today.

They said the Soviets are still firmly committed to a detailed peace formula submitted to Washington on June 17, 1969, and subsequently rejected by the United States.

Informants dismissed a London report of a new Soviet peace plan.

All that has happened, they said, is that the Russians bowed to American, British and French pressure and clarified a few clauses in their document.

Diplomats said the only flexibility displayed by the Soviets in recent weeks related to the nature of the Arab commitment to peace, the timing of a cease-fire implementation and Arab-Israeli frontiers.

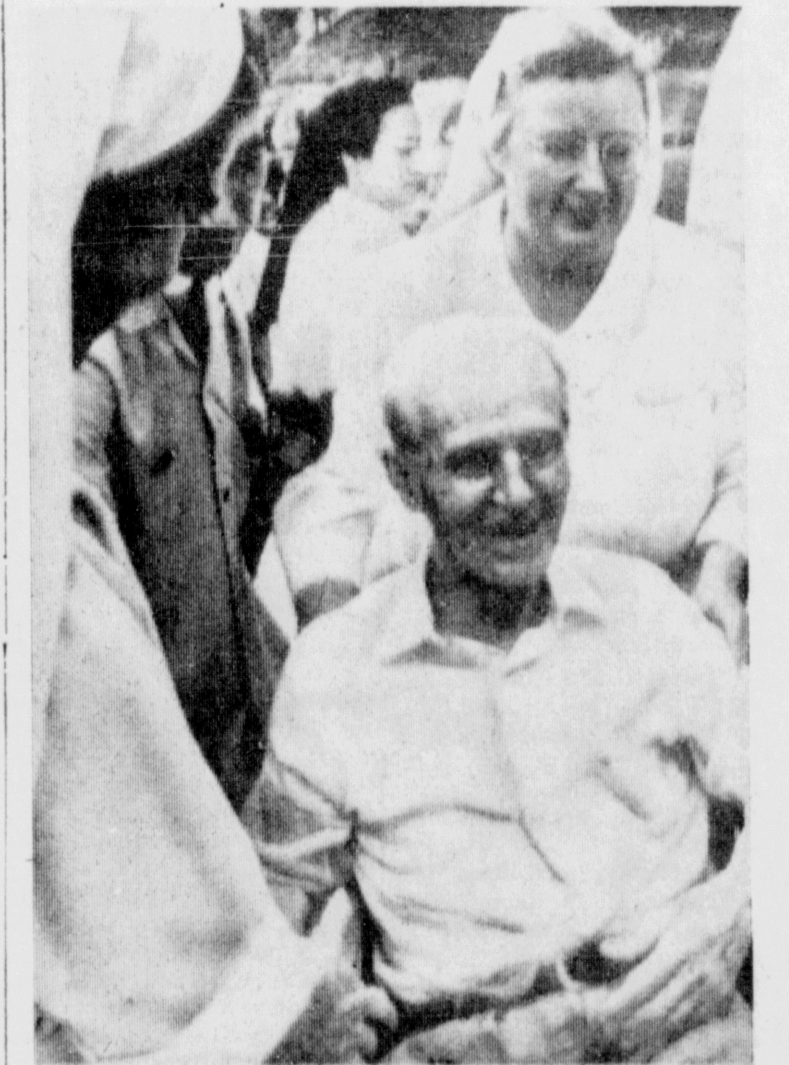

Last month's clarification on a "commitment to peace," informants said, included stronger references to renunciation of force by each side, obligations of Arab states to control local guerrilla movements, curtailment of economic boycott activities and establishment of a formal peace.

Western diplomats stressed that Russia's reference to guerrilla movements was a significant recognition that such activities endanger Arab countries even more than Israel.

The 1969 Soviet plan said Arab states would not be bound to end their "state of war" with Israel until after the Jewish state withdrew from all Arab territories occupied in the 1967 war.

Sources said the Russians amended that provision to permit the Arabs to begin carrying out their side of the package agreement from the time Israel starts its withdrawal.

The other sign of Soviet flexibility, diplomats said, concerned frontiers.

ROMAN CATHOLIC Bishop James Edward Walsh smiles from wheelchair at Hong Kong's Maryknoll Hospital Friday following his release after nearly 12 years in a Communist China prison. Nightmare Behind Iron Curtain Ends For Bishop Walsh

HONG KONG (AP) — Roman Catholic Bishop James Edward Walsh awoke to his first full day of freedom today, received Holy Communion for the first time in a dozen years and talked of people he knew before the Red Chinese imprisoned him as a spy.

For the frail, 79-year-old prelate, the nightmare that began behind the Bamboo Curtain in 1958 had ended. He was free — reunited with his church and eager to celebrate Mass.

The bishop planned to telephone his sister, Mary Walsh of Cumberland, Md., and possibly his younger brother, Judge William A. Walsh, a former attorney general of Maryland.

Doctors said he was surprised that he could make the calls. The last he heard in connection with trans-Pacific phone calls was that there was a lot of static and reception was poor, doctors said.

Released Friday
Bishop Walsh was released by the Red Chinese Friday after being jailed in Shanghai in 1958 and convicted two years later of running an "imperialist" spy ring in China, where he has spent half his life.

The Communists said they released him because his health was failing, but doctors at Hong Kong's hospital reported he was in "surprisingly good physical condition . . . and excellent mental and emotional health."

The bishop received communion in his hospital bed from the hospital chaplain, Father Carmelo Orlando, an old friend. He announced he was "feeling fine and very happy."

Bishop Alert
"He was very alert and his memory was excellent," Father Orlando said. "He kept recalling people he knew and asking about them. Many of them, of course, have died."

The priest said the bishop was delighted to receive a message of good wishes from Pope Paul VI and was "joyous but quite calm at receiving his first communion in so many years."

"It is not certain when he will be celebrating his first Mass," Father Orlando said. "He is weak and must first recover. He was under the Communists' orders. Now he is under doctors' orders."

Doctors said that if he continues satisfactory recuperation he will be well enough to say Mass Sunday.

The Vatican expressed satisfaction over the release of Bishop Walsh.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fausto Vallainc, head of the Vatican press office, said the Vatican "has learned with joy of Bishop Walsh's release."

"Since long ago," Msgr. Vallainc said, "The Vatican has been waiting for Bishop Walsh's release, a man so dear to the Roman Catholic Church and who has devoted his life to the welfare of the Chinese people."

New Crop Aide

EAST LANSING (AP) — A sort of "air conditioning" for crops will be displayed at Michigan State University July 28 during the annual Michigan Farmers' Day. The process involves a system of mist irrigation in which tiny droplets of water are sprayed over crops to keep them both moist and cool. MSU scientists also will show and discuss new vegetable varieties and insecticide-herbicide interactions.

Nelson Attacks Role Of Varnum On College Bill

Michael J. Nelson of Escanaba, Democratic candidate for State Representative from the 107th district, today disputed statements in a Bay de Noc Community College news release asserting that Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) aided the college by voting against recommendations of the Higher Education Appropriations sub-committee of the House.

The release was published in the Daily Press Tuesday.

"Varnum's vote for an amendment deleting the shared-time cooperative vocational educational program recommended by the sub-committee actually hurt Bay de Noc Community College," Nelson said. "This Republican - sponsored amendment caused the loss of $300,000 in state funds which were badly needed by community colleges such as Bay de Noc."

Can Aid Students

Nelson said that the state standard tuition policy of $10 per credit hour for in-district students, $20 per credit hour for out-of-district students, and $30 for out-of-state students allows considerable flexibility for each school.

"The law, which will go into effect next year, specifically authorizes local college officials to assist students through scholarships and financial aids as they deem appropriate," he added.

Schools Set Tuition

"The legislative intent," said Nelson, "is to protect students against excessive tuition. Varnum's claim that the policy compels colleges to raise tuition is ridiculous, as each school can set the effective tuition at any point below the standard through a cross-the-board tuition assistance grant."

Nelson was informed by Rep. George F. Montgomery, chairman of the Higher education appropriation Sub-Committee and a Democratic candidate for Governor, that Varnum did not attend the meeting at which Montgomery's committee explained the tuition policy to state representatives with community colleges in their districts.

"It is obvious that Varnum didn't read the proposal carefully, but followed the leadership of Jackson Republican Rep. Hal Ziegler, who sought special treatment for Jackson Community College," Nelson said.

Former Virginia Governor Dies

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Thomas Bahson Stanley, governor of Virginia when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1954 that Prince Edward County must desegregate its public schools, died today. He was 79.

Stanley died at the Martinsville General Hospital where he was admitted to the coronary care unit Sunday.

After the Supreme Court ruling in the Prince Edward case outlawed separation of the races in public schools, Stanley appointed a 32-man legislative study commission.

Eventually, Virginia turned to its massive resistance approach in an effort to avoid mixing of the races in the schools, and much of Stanley's administration was occupied with school matters. But this posture was abandoned in later administrations.

Blount Praises Carl J. Ahlin

Carl J. Ahlin of Bark River, tour foreman for the U.S. Post Office at Iron Mountain, has been commended by Postmaster Gen. Winton M. Blount for his "outstanding civic activities."

"In a time when participation in community affairs and charitable projects is lacking, it is particularly heartening to know that dedicated individuals like yourself continually strive to further the welfare of their neighbors," Blount said.

Ahlin was nominated for the commendation by Frank D. Borla, postmaster at Iron Mountain, and K. O. William Sandberg, regional director, Chicago.

Borla pointed out that Ahlin is active in the Boy Scout program, serving as chairman of Bark River Boy Scouts, Inc., which owns 40 acres of recreation land and promotes Boy Scouting in the area; is a member of the Michigan School Board Association, Bark River Volunteer Fire Dept., the Barbershoppers, Bark River Lions Club and the Bark River Businessmen's Council.

He also is a past president of the PTA and of the Delta County Methodist Men's Club and serves as choir director and lay leader in his church.

Borla said Ahlin also spends about four hours per week directing glee clubs in the public school system and that he and his wife hosted a girl from Chile in the international "Youth for Understanding" youth exchange program.

Gardener Uses Marijuana For Homemade Soup

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Antonio Carrozz, 57, has been arrested for growing marijuana in his vegetable garden. He says his wife uses the plant for cooking.

Police said they found about 300 of the cannabis plants Friday among the tomatoes, string beans, corn and lettuce Carrozz cultivates on his property.

Carrozz told police his wife uses the seeds of the plants for soups and on Christmas sweets, but that she throws away the leaves preferred by smokers.

Chief John P. Jandrucko said he understood such culinary use of cannabis was a custom in some Italian families.

Carrozz, who will have a hearing next Thursday on a violation of the public health law, said his wife will bring the judge a cup of soup.

Watercolors By Late George True On Exhibit Here

A collection of some 80 watercolors of Michigan mushrooms, the work of the late George A. True, Detroit artist and industrialist, are now on exhibit at the Medicenter in Escanaba through the courtesy of Mr. True's daughter, Mrs. David O. Farrand of 1406 1st Ave. S.

The paintings represent a part of the impressive collection left to the University of Michigan by Mr. True when he died in 1925. There they were shared by the botany and art departments and were exhibited occasionally on campus.

From Escanaba the paintings will go to a brother of Mrs. Farrand in the Canary Islands, who wants to copy them for inclusion in a book about his father, which he anticipates writing when he retires shortly.

Most of the paintings — the collection totals more than 400 — were of mushrooms found in the Grosse Pointe area when it was rural, at Crystal Lake near Frankfort, Leland, and the Huron Mountain area.

Alumni Honor Charles Follo

Charles L. Follo of Escanaba, retiring director of extension services for the University of Michigan in the Upper Peninsula, Friday night urged U-M alumni to support continuation of the extension service office in Escanaba.

Follo was honored by Michigan alumni and friends at a dinner program at the Dells Supper Club.

The Upper Peninsula is such a long way from Ann Arbor, the office is needed to maintain contact with the university, Follo said.

With Follo's retirement, the University announced that it will begin phasing out the extension service in the U.P. as an economy measure.

Follo has been extension service director for the U-M in the Upper Peninsula for 23 years. His retirement was effective at the end of June.

At the dinner Friday sponsored by the Delta County University of Michigan Alumni Club and arranged by Dr. Edward Kuivenen, past president of the club, Follo was presented with a number of "Michigan" gifts, including an "M" blanket, in appreciation for his many years of dedicated service to the university and to the alumni club.

Although he received his education at Western Michigan University and the University of Chicago, Follo was made an honorary alumnus of Michigan by action of the Board of Regents in 1960. The degree was conferred by then President Harlan Hatcher.

Jean Worth, a long-time friend of Follo, served as toastmaster for the dinner. Speakers were David Andrews, president of the Alumni Club, and Dr. Kuivenen.

Operation To Remove Tumor Called Success

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The surgeon who removed a 15-by-10-inch tumor from a hemophiliac man says the nine-hour operation shows that surgery can be performed on such patients.

"I think this will demonstrate to the world that major surgery on a hemophiliac is really a lot safer than it is now thought to be," Dr. Marshall J. Orloff told a news conference Friday.

Orloff, chairman of the department of Surgery at the University of California San Diego Medical School, was the head surgeon in the operation performed Thursday on Elwin L. Kennedy.

"The cyst was the size of a 15 by 10-inch watermelon," he said, "and it extended from the patient's diaphragm down to his pelvis."

Orloff said the recent development and current availability of a protein known as AGH, or antihemophilic globulin, made it possible to operate and yet keep Kennedy from bleeding to death.

"We had been considering this operation for about three years," Orloff said. "Mr. Kennedy has suffered several bleeding episodes which gradually increased the size of the tumor."

Decision day was June 22, the surgeon said, when Kennedy suffered another hemorrhage and was hospitalized.

"His condition had so compromised the quality of his life," Orloff said, "that he felt it just wasn't worth living anymore unless the tumor was removed."

It took University Hospital two weeks just to make the preparations required for the extraordinary operation, he said.

Five surgeons, three anesthesiologists and several other physician specialists were involved in the operation.

Kennedy's cyst was attached to his aorta, liver, intestine and several other organs, Orloff said, and had destroyed the right kidney and part of his right hip bone.

Forty units of blood were ready in the operating room but only 11 were used, he added.

Orloff reported the patient withstood the operation satisfactorily and was "doing very well," although he cautioned that Kennedy still faces the danger all hemophiliacs live with—bleeding.

"He will be in the hospital at least three or four months," Orloff said, "but I think he will make it."

Space Program Cutback Worries Apollo 14 Crew

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two members of America's next moon-landing crew are worried that a "lessening of standards" may result among space workers preparing Apollo 14 for flight because of employment layoffs.

Apollo 14 commander Alan B. Shepard, first American in space, said Friday he is concerned that cutbacks in the space program which have caused layoffs, may lead to poor workmanship at Cape Kennedy.

People Unhappy

"I think we would be naive if we didn't assume that people are unhappy," Shepard said. "If you say, 'Well, I won't be working here tomorrow why should I worry about that little crew I just dropped down there?' ... We would all be naive if we didn't admit that this situation exists somewhere in the system."

Ed Mitchell, lunar module pilot on Apollo 14, said "continuous delay" of the moon mission and the budget cutback has made people worry about their jobs. Apollo 14, now scheduled for early next year, originally was to have been launched this month.

5 Firemen Injured In Downstate Fire

CEDAR (AP) — Five firemen were injured today while fighting a roaring blaze at an oil storage tank in this Leelanau County community about 15 miles northwest of Traverse City.

Police said the fire started about 7 a.m. when one tank at the Standard Oil Co. storage facilities ruptured and blew up.

An oil truck parked nearby caught fire and was destroyed. But firefighters managed to keep the blaze from spreading to several nearby tanks and a building which houses oil trucks and extinguished the blaze within two hours.

The tanks contain gas, fuel oil and kerosene.

however, that the people will do the job that is expected of them," he said. "But it will take positive steps on the part of all concerned that any demoralization of the troops doesn't result in lessening of standards."

"Maybe the step we have to take is to impress on the people that despite the fact that they may be worried about their jobs, we're still counting on them."

Evades Apollo 13 Quiz

Asked if he thought the lack of morale could have caused the Apollo 13 accident in April, Mitchell said he would leave that up to other officials to decide.

The final ground assembly and checkout of Apollo spacecraft is conducted at Cape Kennedy prior to launch. A special procedure performed on Apollo 13 caused switches to burn and led to the space accident which imperiled the Apollo 13 astronauts.

Thousands of Cape Kennedy workers have been laid off in the past few months as a result of space agency budget cuts and an extension of the Apollo moon mission schedule.

Space Agency To Reconsider Pacts For Two Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency—under fire for its selection process—has agreed to reconsider its award of a contract for two experimental satellites.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Friday that a top-level committee would review the award last week of the $50-million contract to General Electric Co.

At the same time, Thomas O. Paine, NASA administrator and former long-time executive of GE, defended the process by which GE was granted the contract to build the communications devices.

Fairchild Hiller Corp. protested the award on grounds that it had submitted a superior design at lower cost. GE was granted a one-week extension, subsequently submitted an equalizing bid and was given the contract.

Iceland Natives Mourn Death Of Prime Minister

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Icelanders today mourned the death of Prime Minister Bjarni Benediktsson, killed in a fire, while Johann Hafstein, minister of justice and industry, temporarily took the reins of government in the Arctic Circle nation.

Flags were at half staff and police and firemen sifted the ruins of the summer cottage in which Benediktsson, 62, his wife and a grandson burned to death Thursday night.

President Kristjan Eldjarn, after meeting with members of the cabinet Friday, asked Hafstein to take over as acting prime minister of the coalition government of Benediktsson's Independent party and the Social Democrats.

Witnesses who saw the flames shooting from the summer house of the prime minister in Tingvellir, 40 miles from Reykjavik, said the blaze was punctuated by an explosion that tore off the roof. The cause of the fire was not known.

Tower Time

Escanaba's entry into the senior citizens housing sweepstakes generated by the federal government — the 18-story Harbor Tower apartment building — will be officially dedicated Monday in a program which will include Miss America.

It will be the third "civic celebration" built around the tower and by far the most impressive. A year ago ground was broken by community officials in ceremonies on the northeast corner of the block. Then last winter, a "topping off" ceremony was held in the brisk breezes on the roof of the tower.

Now comes Miss America — Pamela Sue Eldred of Birmingham — to add her special dignity and beauty to the formal dedication rites. She'll be joined by members of the Housing Commission, contractors, developers, councilmen and other city officials in a dedication program that begins with a news conference in the morning and continues through the evening's dedication banquet.

Actually, although the building will be dedicated and from the outside appears to be nearly complete, senior citizens won't begin moving into the 176 apartment units for a number of days. The trucking strike in Chicago tied up fixtures, etc., needed to put the finishing touches on the apartments, but before the summer is out the building is expected to be filled to capacity. Units will rent for less than $50 a month.

And it's that rental price that is behind the government's effort to provide housing for the nation's elderly.

Most of the retired residents — singles and couples — must pay for their needs out of limited incomes and the nation's Social Security checks, while bigger today than a few years ago, don't have escalating "cost of living" improvements built in. If elderly people have to pay competitive rates for housing there are only two alternatives — substandard housing or substandard living. Neither is acceptable.

The government's approach to the problem could have taken any number of directions, larger Social Security checks for one, but the decision was made that it might be easier to reduce the housing costs of the nation's senior citizens than to increase the Social Security tax to increase their checks. Such policy has the added benefit of making dwellings formerly occupied by elderly residents available for younger families.

And so the government program got started. The low rent is possible because of the low interest charged on the building loan to the Local Housing Commission.

Escanaba's Harbor Tower which looks out over Little Bay de Noc and is visible for miles around is reportedly the tallest building north of Milwaukee. The efficiency apartments are not large, but very adequate for older persons who aren't that fond of cleaning a big home anymore.

If there was one mistake, however, it was by the federal government in not allowing sufficient funds to purchase the entire block, particularly on Ludington St. While the new building nearing completion on the west side of Harbor Tower is an attractive addition to the street, it doesn't leave much view for persons on the west side of the first few floors of the tower. An entire block of property also would have allowed a total approach to landscaping.

But that's water under the tower. Monday is dedication day. It's time for the community to pause in recognition of a job well done.

Progress on rehabilitation of the Interstate Bridge between Menominee and Marinette is on schedule, according to officials of the Kraemer Construction Co. Traffic on the span has been two lane during the work period.

The former St. John's Parochial School and convent, an 86-year-old landmark in downtown Ishpeming, will soon disappear to make room for a modern gas station. The property, vacated in 1963 when a new school, convent, rectory, hall and baptistry were constructed to connect with St. John's Church, was bought by Mike Tasson of Ishpeming. The sale also included a house on the triangle-shaped lot, which was purchased by the church in 1960. Tasson, who is a partner in Ruusi-Vivian Oil Co., said wrecking crews will start razing the building within a week or two. The new construction planned by Tasson will be of steel.

Sen. Philip A. Hart and candidates for other statewide offices will speak at the July 19 Democratic State Central Committee meeting in Mackinaw City at 1:30 p.m. at Downing's Restaurant.

Comprehensive economic profiles of Houghton and Keweenaw counties to help the areas attract new business and industry have been compiled by the Michigan Department of Commerce. Production of profiles was recommended by a special Copper County economic task force created last year following the closing of the area's copper mines and Gov. William Milliken said "It is hoped the resource material contained in the profiles will be of assistance to those involved in building an improved economy for the area as well as to businesses and industries considering expanding their Copper Country facilities or establishing new plants in the area."

Careers Of Swainson, Milliken Show Parallels

By DON HOENSHELL
Panax Staff Writer

LANSING—Scratch the last decade and it's Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson running for governor again in the inherited shadow of Michigan's greatest Democrat.

Instead, it's former Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken following the man who gave Republicans a new life in Michigan.

They're modified and updated, but the parallels are strong enough for history to repeat itself with only the future in doubt for Milliken.

Made Own Way

Both chafed in obscurity — Swainson under former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Milliken under former Gov. Romney. Both made their own way, almost defiantly.

There is no one of such statewide stature as Romney — in ratio to Swainson — to overpower Milliken at this point in time. The ball game is different now.

Swainson started life in Port Huron, the son of a workman, was a star halfback on his high school football team and lost his legs in the infantry near Metz, France in World War II.

Milliken was the son of a Traverse City department store owner, was a track and basketball star in high school, was wounded as a B-24 waist gunner over Europe in World War II.

Both In Senate

Swainson went to Albion College and the University of South Carolina, worked as a welfare investigator in Detroit, practiced law and came to the state senate from Plymouth in 1954.

Milliken went to Yale University, became a power in Northwestern Michigan Republican circles, and came to the state Senate from Traverse City in 1960.

Swainson was minority leader in the Senate during his second term, became lieutenant governor in 1958 and was elected governor in 1960.

Milliken was a member of the "Young Moderates," rose to majority leader, then was chosen by Romney as his running mate in 1964 and 1968, and became governor when Romney became secretary of Housing and Urban Development in the Nixon administration.

Both Nice Guys

There are more parallels. Both were their own men in the legislature. Swainson and Milliken both fought for civil rights bills before they were popular — both often standing alone in rebellion to their parties.

Swainson swept out most of the Williams staffers and installed his own people. Milliken did the same, except for Budget Director Glenn C. Allen.

As governors, both were nice guys — to a fault — and made decisions more on courage and rightness than on the route best attuned to politics.

Swainson vetoed the Bowman Bill, which would have barred Detroit from imposing its income tax on suburban commuters. A funeral crepe hung over a dairy workers union hall after he vetoed a milk bill. These, among others, led to his defeat in 1962.

Slogan Adopted

Milliken has taken strong stands on the controversial issues of abortion reform and parochialism, the 18-year-old vote and education reform. The impact is still to be measured.

Swainson — realizing he was in trouble at the end of his first term — adopted the slogan "The courage to do what was right."

Milliken's slogan tentatively is "It's no time for beginners" but he might have adopted Swainson's except that it led Swainson nowhere.

Where are they all now?

Williams served in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, returned to Grosse Pointe and is now running for the Michigan Supreme Court.

Romney is secretary of HUD for Nixon and is in self-imposed political exile while his wife, Lenore, is running for the United States Senate.

Swainson practiced law for awhile after his defeat by Romney, decided not to run again for governor, was elected to the Wayne County Circuit Court bench and is now running for the Michigan Supreme Court.

Milliken has reached the point political where Swainson was in 1962 — but there is more substance to his hope that history doesn't keep repeating itself.

Then, after drawing two rounds of trumps — and to give himself an added chance to make the slam — declarer cashed the K-A of diamonds, hoping to find one defender or the other with the Q-J alone or the Q-J-x. But when neither honor appeared, South abandoned diamonds and redirected his attention to hearts.

He led the ten from dummy. East could not afford to duck, so he covered with the queen. Declarer went up with the king, catching West's seven.

By this time South had the 6-4 and East the 5-3. Declarer now crossed to dummy with a trump and returned the deuce of hearts. When East produced the three, South finessed the four!

Declarer then discarded a club from dummy on the six of hearts and wound up making seven.

The hand demonstrates that there is practically no limit to the depth of a finesse. But obviously declarer must keep his eyes closely peeled to the business at hand to realize that, after two rounds of a suit are led, the six has become the master card and the four has assumed a finessing status.

Float, Flow Fashions Seen At Rome Showing

ROME (AP) — Roberto Capucci's collection shown Friday night against the renaissance arches of Rome's 16th century Valle Giulia came as close to poetry as fashion can come.

It was all float and flow, evoking images of such classic young heroines as Juliet and Ophelia, Eloise or Melisande.

With few exceptions, these dresses were fitted through the rib cage falling in a soft wide sweep to the ankles.

Some were princess, some had high waists defined by seams or wide inset bands of subtle contrasting color and others were narrowly swathed at the waist in crushed chiffon or crepe. Nearly all had long sleeves, either narrow or loose and cuffed.

Like the dresses, the coats were deceptively simple, straight sleeved, open, and cut on the bias to flare gently at the hem. There were also bias cut thin wool capes, worn with long scarves covering the hair and draped over one shoulder.

Capucci showed suede boots or silk shoes with crushed fabric gaiters in colors that matched the dresses with very effective results.

There was only one other style of shoe that carried out the medieval look of the clothes—low-heeled with a high pointed vamp in suede, silk, or gold kid.

The colors were delicate and delicious. A while gamut of rose, rust, peach, apricot, plum, coral, pink, combined with great imagination. Imagine an apricot dress with rust cape, pale melon with mauve, peacy with pearl gray and brown.

For evening, dark capes were worn over pale hammered velvet dresses in copper, rose, beige. There were several white evening gowns, like nun's habits or Fra Nageleico angels lightly bloused and girdled in gold lame with flowing sleeves.

There were no obviously contrived clothes in the whole collection, yet it was full of hidden artistry.

Foreign Trade Bill Bogs Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first major U.S. foreign trade bill in eight years has bogged down in the House Ways and Means Committee with a controversy over import quotas unresolved.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., committee chairman, said no decisions were reached in a Friday meeting and that his earlier hopes for a quick resolution of the quota issue would have to sit in abeyance.

Off the record, members of the committee indicated a broad range of quotas were being considered ahead of the administration-backed textile import controls. But no workable formula was reached.

On the record, at another committee meeting, Richard W. McLaren, head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, urged no quotas on imports at this time. Instead, he proposed tariffs would meet current needs.

Cooperation Is Key:

Area-Wide Service Concept Explored

By CLINT DUNATHAN

There are certain basic services required by people in any civilized community, and these include water supply, sanitation facilities, fire and police protection.

In the Gladstone-Escanaba area there are talks now going on at the local government level which could result in cooperative actions to bring improved and more efficient service in those categories.

The Gladstone City Commission on Monday evening, for example, will explore the possibility of a mutual fire protection arrangement with Escanaba Township.

Escanaba city is in continuing discussions with Wells and Ford River Townships on a new arrangement for continued fire fighting service.

Police And Fire

In all of these talks about fire protection the matter of costs looms large, for like everything else these days the price keeps going up. Escanaba Township, if it should enter into a fire service agreement with Escanaba or Gladstone (and Gladstone seems most logical geographically) may have to put the matter to a vote of the people and request more money for this purpose.

Police protection is another essential service provided by government, and discussions on an officially coordinated area-wide program may be expected to continue for the same season that fire protections are being arranged area-wide — more efficiency, reduced cost.

Presently the county has the services of the sheriff's department and the State Police, some townships have constables, and Escanaba and Gladstone support police departments, in addition.

Prod From Washington

The area-wide and even regional approach to public services is increasingly encouraged by state and federal programs.

Private Schools May Lose Tax Exempt Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has decided racially segregated private schools are not charitable institutions and, in a move that could jeopardize their survival, said it will revoke their tax-exempt status.

In a policy ruling drafted after a year of internal debate and announced at a hastily called news conference Friday, the Internal Revenue Service said about 10,000 private schools — from kindergarten to college — must demonstrate a nondiscriminatory admissions policy by public statement or an integrated student body.

The ruling will no longer allow contributors to a school to write off their donations as charitable and therefore tax deductible. And freedom of the schools from local real estate and property taxes will end, though not many schools will be affected because few have any taxable income.

In Mississippi, William J. Simmons, treasurer of the Citizens Council School Foundation, that state's largest private school system, called the ruling "politics at its wickedest at the expense of school children."

He said despite "every hindrance or stumbling block that might be put in our way, we are convinced that the private schools will provide educational facilities for the children."

"One of the most disturbing things is that it makes race for the first time a factor in tax exemption," Simmons said.

He said that "if the principle of race or religion is to become a factor in tax exemption, then every private school or church is in similar jeopardy."

Under the ruling, the IRS will assume public statements are made in good faith but will keep watch on the schools through its regular system of checking tax-exempt organizations, IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower said.

Sometimes there are direct financial rewards, as in the case of Escanaba's planning for a $6 million water and sewerage improvement project, of which about 50 per cent will be met with state and federal funds.

"Congressman Ruppe's office has informed us that the Water Quality Administration has increased our grant from $112,600 to $123,860," reports City Manager George Harvey.

"The additional money is in the form of a bonus because our planning in our water and sewer project was done with an eye toward the future serving the adjacent townships. Because of this area-wide comprehensive plan, we were awarded the additional amount."

Another essential under local and state sanitary laws is the disposal of garbage and other refuse.

The cost also is rising with the increasing volume and the need to upgrade disposal methods. Escanaba and adjacent townships cooperatively sponsor a sanitary landfill operation. But the problem grows, notes City Manager Harvey.

Sanitary Authority

"Several commercial enterprises in the adjacent townships have requested use of the sanitary landfill where they could dispose of unnecessary by-products from their business," he advised the City Council.

"We have an arrangement with Ford River and Wells townships in this regard, however, in these particular instances, this is over and above the routine refuse. The particular problem involved is the used car bodies that need to be disposed of. We are unable to take these at the sanitary landfill," Harvey continued.

"It appears to me that this is another case where we must look to an area-wide operation under an incinerator authority or a sanitary landfill authority," he said, concluding with the suggestion:

"Perhaps the two municipalities, Gladstone and Escanaba, along with several of the adjacent townships, could formulate such an authority to answer these problems."

Nine Persons Die In Crash Of Two Autos

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nine persons were crushed to death early today in a head-on collision a mile from the Golden Gate Bridge, the Highway Patrol said.

A small foreign sports car carrying three men and an American sedan carrying six men and women were demolished in the crash, officers said. There were no survivors.

Identities of the victims, most of them young, were not available.

Patrolmen said the accident was the worst in the bridge's 33-year history and was the most deadly they could recall in San Francisco.

It took an hour and a half to remove the wreckage and bodies from the steep four-lane elevated highway. The road is an entrance and exit ramp on the San Francisco side of the bridge.

A Highway Patrol spokesman said one car apparently crossed the center lane on U.S. 101 and smashed directly into the other. All of the victims were found inside the cars, he said.

Dramatic Career Is Pam Eldred's Goal

Who is Miss America?

She's that lovely girl who lives down the street or around the corner in almost any town.

And this year—on the 50th anniversary of the Miss America Pageant—she's poised and lovely Pamela Ann Eldred, 21 year old green-eyed honey blonde from Birmingham, a suburb of Detroit. She entered and competed and won as Miss Michigan.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William B. Eldred and they once lived in Crystal Falls in the Upper Peninsula. He is a manufacturing superintendent and the Eldreds have three other children—Jerome 23, John 25, and Melanie 14.

Career In Theater

At the time of her selection as Miss America, Pam was to enter her senior year at Mercy College in Detroit, majoring in speech and drama. She graduated from Immaculate High School in 1966.

After her year as Miss America, Pam plans to return to school and finish her undergraduate work and obtain a Master's degree.

The talented Pam has studied the piano for seven years, voice for one year, drama five years, ballet 11 years, and pantomime for 2 years.

With this background (plus that Master's degree in speech and drama and graduate work in dance) Pam should find success in the legitimate theater. She has been lead dancer for the Detroit City Ballet since the age of 13 and has played feature roles in many college theater productions.

Travels 200,000 Miles

Her scholastic attainment is equally significant, for Pam was on the Dean's List in 1968. But the theater is her goal.

And that goal is being furthered by Pam through her role as Miss America. For the $11,000 in scholarships that came to her as Miss America will assist in financing her studies after receiving her Bachelor's degree.

Who then is Miss America? She's the girl who's taking a year to fulfill all the obligations that go with being that lovely girl who lives down the block or just around the corner in any American city—and her travels will bring her to Escanaba on Monday.

That visit will be part of the 200,000 miles Pam will travel around the country during her reign as Miss America.

Firestone Hit Over Making 'False' Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission today accused Firestone tire and Rubber Co. of making deceptive claim as to the safety and wear of its tires and of falsely advertising price savings that did not exist.

Firestone, in a statement released if Washington, disputed the FTC charges and said the firm "expects to demonstrate to the commission that its accusations and assumptions are not well-founded."

In a formal complaint, the commission took issue with Firestone advertising its product as "the safe tire" and said use of the name "Safety Champion" for one line of its tires is misleading and deceptive.

The commission also branded as false Firestone's claim that its "super sports wide oval" tires could stop any car 25 per cent quicker under typical road and weather conditions than any other manufacturer's tires of a particular construction.

Renewing charges first raised in a proposed complaint issued Dec. 21, the FTC also accused the firm of falsely advertising that its tires were significantly reduced from regular prices, and that purchasers could be assured of getting a tire free from manufacturing defects and safe under all conditions of use.

Firestone said the pricing allegations "are based on FTC conclusions and interpretations only and not on facts."

"Firestone has consistently complied with FTC guidelines concerning the advertising of tires at store prices."

"As for the charges having to do with safety issues, they simply show the commission's lack of knowledge and experience on the subjects of tires and tire safety," the firm said.

"Firestone has not misrepresented through advertising the quality standards which it meets or exceeds in building tires."

In heavy rain, a 50-foot saguaro cactus may soap up a ton of water.

POISED AND LOVELY Miss America, Pamela Eldred, is the girl next door who, by the magic of the Miss America Pageant, becomes a symbol of America's dream girl. This is the 50th year of the Miss America Pageant and Miss Eldred will be the second Miss America to visit Escanaba — the first was Nancy Fleming, Miss America of 1961 — who was here for the dedication of the Ludington Park memorial fountain.

Eagle Favored In Yacht Race

PORT HURON (AP) — Som 200 sleek sailing craft breeze northward today on their way to Michigan's Mackinac Island in the first of two back-to-back Great Lakes races.

Favored to win the 235 mile Port Huron - Mackinac Island race is the American Eagle, a 12-meter sloop owned by R.E. Turner of Atlanta. The Eagle, the Southern Ocean Racing Circuit champion, is this year's scratch boat, ahead of last year's pace-setter Windigo.

The 1969 over-all corrected time winner Diavolo has been sold and is not entered in the race.

The boats are nearly evenly divided among six classes, A through F. Among the entrants are several of last year's top finishers: Flying Jenny III, winner of the Cruising B class; Sesame, winner of Cruising D; and Nan Tim, winner of Division II and Cruising E.

Skippers were hoping for better winds than last year to provide the push for the race that normally takes two to three days.

The number of entrants was limited this year to 200 after last year's record 220 boats raised questions of safety at the starting and finishing lines. Three boats scratched before the race began, leaving 197 in the lineup.

Reorganization Of State, City Government Eyed

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has announced he is preparing legislation that would result in major reorganization of the administrative functions of state and local government.

The proposed legislation would help give local governments "the flexibility to meet their state-imposed responsibilities," Milliken said.

The last major overhaul of state government came in 1965, when more than 100 agencies were telescoped into nine principal departments.

The governor said Friday more changes are in order "if government is to become truly responsible to the taxpayers."

"It's time to bring state government into the 20th century," Milliken told a news conference, "and the same is true of local government."

Milliken was in Traverse City for cherry festival activities.

In the South Pacific island kingdom, Tonga, food is plentiful but land is not. Every Tongan boy is eligible to receive 8 1/4 acres of tillable land on reaching 16. Not all of the island's total area of 269 square miles is arable, however, and many choose not to move to outlying islands to claim available plots.

GROUND WAS BROKEN a little more than a year ago (April, 1969) for the high rise, as it was to be called. Present for the ceremony were members of the City Council and Housing Commission and developers including (from left) foreground, John Gannon, Escanaba; Nathan Rakita, Milwaukee; and Mayor Cecil Chase. Scholarships Among Miss America Goals

The Miss America Pageant was created 50 years ago and at its inauguration in 1921 few people were concerned with thoughts of higher education for young women.

In fact, the pageant had more of the aspects of a beauty contest and carnival — and it was not until 1945 that the first educational scholarship of $5,000 was awarded to Miss America.

From that year on, the local and state pageants over the country joined hands with the Miss America Pageant to provide (through the generosity of business firms, individuals, colleges and universities) a Scholarship Foundation for the young women who participate in the Pageant.

Tourist Council Okays $520,000 Budget For Year

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (AP) — The Michigan Tourist Council adopted a $520,000 budget today to advertise the state's advantages as a year-around recreation and vacation center.

The budget was about $20,000 greater than last year when the council said its advertising campaign drew more than 200,000 inquiries about vacationing in this state. The money is allocated by the Legislature.

In other action, the council adopted a new slogan which describes the state as "the Michigans — the almost islands of the Great Lakes."

The council said it plans to devote part of its advertising budget to public service announcements and a campaign to protect the state's environment.

I-94 Fatality

HARTFORD (AP) — A Chicago man was killed Friday when he was struck by a car on I-94 two miles west of Hartford in Van Buren county.

Authorities said the victim—66-year-old Ira Bey — apparently had car trouble, and when he attempted to cross the freeway on foot, he was struck by another car.

A MONUMENT To PROGRESS...

We welcome as a privilege the opportunity to pay tribute to Escanaba and their new Harbor Tower Apartment Building.

Ideas unlock the future and this contribution to our city is a giant step forward toward new horizons.

ESCANABA PAPER COMPANY

FROM THE DESK OF THE CITY MANAGER

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

Another milestone in the City of Escanaba's "March Of Progress" will be reached on Monday! Thanks to the efforts of our Housing Commission, members of the City Administration and many other interested citizens, we will be dedicating our first senior citizens apartment building — Harbor Tower Apartments.

The building itself is certainly an asset to our city — but the use of it to aid our lower income senior citizens is the most important aspect of the project.

With the incorporation of this "tallest building north of Milwaukee," we have something here that people in their golden years can be proud of and enjoy for many years to come. The apartment building will enable many of these elderly folks to keep in touch with downtown activity and give them a large degree of urban convenience.

All things considered, the citizens can well be proud of Harbor Tower Apartments. We, your City Administration, certainly are proud to have had a part in the planning and ultimate conception of the high rise apartment project.

Along with the many others, we would like to invite each and every Escanaba citizen to visit the apartment complex on Monday and attend the dedication ceremonies in the afternoon.

EACH APARTMENT in Harbor Tower is identical and includes living room, dining area, bedroom, bath, kitchen and a large amount of built-in storage. The square foot total is 485 and the units are arranged like spokes in a wheel with each apartment having two double windows.

High Rise Designed For Comfort, Safety

Basic goals in the design of Escanaba's Harbor Tower was to provide comfortable, convenient and safe living for the elderly of the area, reports the Housing Commission and the developers, Blumnefeld & Rakita.

The 176 apartments for senior citizens' by their very location, meet the criteria for convenience in the community.

It is within walking distance of many shops, drug stores, churches, restaurants; not far distant is Ludington Park for recreation; and the central location places it near other community facilities easily reached by cab.

Rents Under $50

Housing Commission, the developers, architects, contractors and others — with the guidance of Housing and Urban Development — worked cooperatively to make Harbor Tower an example of modern apartment dwelling at low cost. Rent in the federally funded building will be under $50 per unit.

The 18-story structure was started in April of last year. The building is 185 feet high and 88 feet in diameter—said to be the tallest building of its kind north of Milwaukee.

The decision to construct one tall tower rather than two lower ones, besides providing an impressive panoramic view of the area from the higher stories, resulted in a saving by omitting duplicating features of a second tower.

Attention has also been given to reducing sounds within units of the Tower, and especially between units. A combined living and dining room provides an open spacious appearance with easy access to kitchen, bath, and bedroom.

Convenience Plus

Great attention has been placed on the functional use for the elderly who will live there. Heights of outlets, fixtures, cabinets, space controls, windows and hardware and other features have all been considered in relationship to the needs of the elderly tenants.

To achieve maximum convenience even for those who must use a wheel chair, or for the arthritic, and the partially handicapped — facilities have been provided so that day to day living can be carried on without the inconveniences in the usual apartment.

Bathrooms are even equipped with "grab bars" for safety, and there is a tenant alarm system which can be used to summon assistance in any emergencies.

The building is of fire resistant construction, steel and masonry, and this factor has another plus—there are fire hoses and cabinets on each floor plus a fire alarm system.

Recreation Areas

The architects designed Harbor Tower with both large and small community facilities on the first floor, providing a wide range of recreational activities and spaces for the senior citizens. Entertainments, social activities, and other recreational uses both indoors and out have space provided, and with the aid of two elevators and a central corridor on each floor, minimum walking distance is necessary to gain access to all the facilities.

The sensible and functional floors plans and all the other "built in" features will combine to make living in Harbor Tower a new pleasant experience for the elderly.

John Gannon, Housing director, said that initially there was some question on the part of prospective tenants concerning residence at the higher levels of the apartment building. Now many of the applicants are asking for the top floor or as near as they can get there.

Besides impressive appearance of Harbor Tower and the "lift" to Escanaba's skyline, the building has become a landmark for sailors on ships large and small that come and go on Green Bay and Little Bay de Noc.

One of the features of the dedication program on Monday will be the presentation by Congressman Philip Kuppe of a flag that has flown over the Capitol in Washington to William DeHaan, Housing Commission president.

18-Year-Olds Given Delegate Approval Under Signed Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill permitting 18-year-olds to become precinct delegates to state and national political conventions was among 17 measures signed into law Friday by Gov. William Milliken.

The governor said the new law "provides young people meaningful access to the political process."

"I have long advocated the voting privilege for persons when they become 18," Milliken said, "and this measure is a very worthwhile step in that direction."

"It permits younger people to have significant roles in formation of programs by both political parties in a way and at a time when such participation can be highly important for them and the parties," he said.

Other bills signed by the governor provide for:

- Authority to market imported commercial fish in Michigan, when such fish is labeled as having been caught and processed in another state.
- A method to distribute nominal legacies ($1 or less) of unknown or declining legatees to the residuary estate. The bill eliminates the necessity for a special order to dispose of the bequest.
- The admission of a will to probate without the requirement of testimony of the subscribing witnesses.
- The appointment of a guardian without notice or bond to execute a mortgage for a married minor.
- The employment by a county of inmates of Michigan correctional institutions on nonconstruction projects within any county.
- Exemption from the provisions of the usury statute loans made by any state or national chartered bank or insurance carrier to any person who furnishes a sworn statement that the loan is for a business purpose.
- The leasing of land at the south end of Petoskey State Park to the Ottawa-Chippewa Arts and Crafts Cooperative, Inc., to develop an indian cultural center.
- Amendment of the veterans' trust fund repayment to reduce annual payments from $14 million to $4 million and to extend the repayment deadline from 1971 to 1976. The bill also allows the board of trustees to grant or loan funds to the state for the construction of a new veterans' nursing facility.
- Establishing by intermediate school districts of educational media centers primarily to provide audio-visual education to local school districts.
- Reimbursement to the Grand Rapids school district of $184,061 in school aid, the amount deducted from 1969-70 funds because of failure to provide a full 180 days of instruction during the 1968-69 school year.
- Repeal of section of the General Corporation Act which allows a corporation in another state to be incorporated in Michigan.
- Continuation of state scholarships for a full eight semesters to students who enter professional degree programs such as law, dentistry or medicine, and who begin such graduate study before completing four years of undergraduate work.
- Establishment of a 1/2 per cent per month interest rate on delinquent franchise privilege fees by amending the corporation act.
- Allowing the state 90 days rather than the present 20 days in which to notify corporations which are delinquent in filing annual reports.
- Allowing the deputy clerk of a first class district court to also perform the duties and exercise the power of a magistrate.
- Depositing stocks or securities in safety deposit boxes as directed by a circuit court. Deposits previously were required to be in regular bank accounts.

Girl, 19, Wins State Amateur

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Bonnie Lauer of Edgewood Country Club defeated Helen Grinnell of the Detroit Golf Club 4 and 3 in the championship finals of the Michigan Women's Amateur Golf Tournament at Plum Hollow Friday.

The win gave the 19-year-old Miss Lauer her first championship trophy in the Women's Amateur, although she had reached the semifinal rounds on two previous occasions.

Earlier in the day, Miss Lauer defeated Susan Barle of Indianwood Golf and Country Club, 4 and 2, in semifinal play. Miss Grinnell finished 2 and 1 over Mrs. John Hume, also in semifinal competition.

In championship consolation finals, Patricia Young of Meadowbrook Country Club defeated Mrs. Rodney Thompson of Pine Lake Country Club.

In finals play, Miss Lauer took the first and second holes and made the turn at the end of nine at three up. She was four up going into the 13th hole, which she lost, but went 4 up on the 15th to win, 4 and 3.

Bandit Sought

CASEVILLE (AP) — FBI agents and local law enforcement agencies today were seeking a lone bandit who held up the Caseville branch of the Community Bank in Huron County Friday and fled with an estimated $5,000. Investigators said the man pointed a gun at a teller and forced the bank employees into a vault before taking the money.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Tower Of 18-Stories New High In Low-Cost Housing

Harbor Tower is the high rise answer to low-cost housing for the elderly of the Escanaba area.

The 18-story structure will be dedicated on Monday with Miss America Pamela Eldred in attendance — and certainly not to be overlooked despite such competition is the Escanaba Housing Commission, whose project is reaching fulfillment after some three years of effort.

Members of the Housing Commission, appointed by the City Council three years ago, are:

- Chairman William DeHaan, Executive Director John Gannon, Secretary William J. Winkler, and Commissioners Michael Jensen, Carl R. Anderson and Arnold Williams.

Granted $2,550,000

A little more than two years ago the Commission decided (after long and careful consideration, that the housing project was needed, that approximately 170 of the elderly of low income were in need of improved dwellings, and that the method best suited to accomplish this was the so-called "turn-key" plan.

The "turn-key" method involves construction by a developer (in Escanaba's case the firm of Blumenfeld & Rakita of Milwaukee) of the housing project to its completion. The structure is then "sold" to the local housing authority, which has received the purchase funds in a grant from the Office of Housing and Urban Development.

The federal grant to Escanaba is $2,550,000 and this has been received and is invested in short-term notes, says Chairman DeHaan of the Housing Commission. It will be paid to the developer when the project is completed and accepted.

Started In April 1969

Receipts from the operation of Harbor Tower will pay off the obligation over a period of 40 years. There is no direct cost to the City of Escanaba, and in fact 10 per cent of the rentals are set aside for payment to the city in lieu of taxes.

The site in the 500 block of Ludington St., was cleared beginning in the spring of 1969, and April 15 of that year was set as the starting date of construction.

The developers — Blumenfeld & Rakita — had proposed to the city the construction of twin towers. Originally the estimates of housing need had been as high as 210.

Following surveys and registrations, it was decided that the project would be to provide housing of 176 units — and that for reasons of economy the two towers should become one high one. And so it is that Escanaba has an 18-story (185 feet high) answer to the problem of providing comfortable housing to the elderly of low income.

Became One Tower

The action to go to the 18-story high rise was made by the Housing Commission at a meeting on Aug. 2, 1968.

"After discussion (with the architect) it was moved by Carl Anderson, seconded by William DeHaan, that architect plans be changed to one tower of 18 stories instead of twin towers originally designated," according to the Commission minutes.

Even as late as Feb. 7, 1969, there was concern on the part of the Commission that the project was slow in getting off the ground — let alone 18 stories up.

Olson Transfer Co., which had a new terminal under construction, was delayed in removing from the tower site. The Commission expressed concern and urged the vacating of the site "as soon as possible to avoid delay in starting work on the building for the elderly."

Prospective Tenants

There were many problems to be met and overcome. Meetings were held not only with developers and architects and federal agency officials, but also with men like Escanaba Fire

Chief Palmer Derouin. On March 24, 1969, they met with Chief Derouin "to resolve the question of fire hose outlets on each floor."

No aspect was overlooked that might add to the comfort and convenience of the building. American Cablevision Co., was contacted and each of the 176 units plus recreation areas will be provided with cable TV outlets.

By Jan. 12, 1970, the building was about 60 per cent complete.

Meanwhile there was the continuing program of receiving applications and screening them for occupancy in the Harbor Tower. Prospective tenants were screened on: 1 — Income and assets; 2 — Qualifications under residence requirements; 3 — The number qualifying under the original criteria; and 4 — The number that might be accepted who reside outside the city.

Congratulations To The People Of The City Of Escanaba!

The Harbor Tower Apartment Building is another giant step forward for Escanaba. The aiding of senior citizens through low cost, comfortable housing programs such as this is always most commendable. Our 'hat's off' to the City Council, Housing Commission, City Administration and to the many interested citizens for their part in promoting and carrying thru to the end, this fine project. We strongly urge everyone in Delta County to attend the Dedication Ceremonies and Open House this Monday, July 13.

With Fahey Flynn scheduled to give the Harbor Tower dedication address, it will be the return of the native for the television news personality from Chicago.

Born in Escanaba, Flynn will speak here Monday at the program marking dedication of the 18-story apartment building for the elderly of low income.

For most of the past 15 years, Flynn has been teamed with Joel Daly on WLS-TV's "Flynn-Daly News" since early 1968, and Flynn's nightly newscasts are reportedly watched by as much as 65 per cent of the Chicago TV audience.

National Attention
He began his broadcasting career as a newsman for a radio station in Fond du Lac, after receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in history and English from Oshkosh State Teachers College.

Later while doing graduate work in economics at the University of Wisconsin, he also worked as a newsman for Radio In 1937, Flynn helped organize the Wisconsin Radio Network and eventually became its first program director before leaving for a broadcast news position with WEMP Radio in Milwaukee.

Flynn joined WBBM Radio, Chicago, in 1941 but left soon afterwards to serve as a Naval Air Corps lieutenant in the Pacific during World War II. He resumed his career with WBBM in 1946 and won almost every national award two years later for a radio news series entitled "Report Uncensored."

He and producer Perry Wolff received more honors in 1950 for a pioneer radio documentary on race relations called "The Quiet Answer."

Award Winner
The television news role that made Flynn's face, manner of delivery and familiar attire a Chicago tradition began in 1952. During the following 16 years, he also narrated dozens of television news specials, including several Illinois Bell Telephone Co. sponsored award-winning documentaries.

An active public speaker, Flynn annually addresses as many as 150 business, civic and educational groups. His hobbies are fishing, sailing, golf and, especially, travel. He and his wife Mary are the parents of two children, James and Kathryn.

Flynn, who lives in Chicago, is a member of the Executives Club, Chicago Press Club, the Lake Shore Club and Chicago Unlimited, of which he is a past president.

His honorary societies are Kappa Delta Phi, Pi Kappa Delta and Phi Beta Sigma.

To Earth-based observers, the sun appears a hundred billion times brighter than any other star, National Geographic says. However, the sun would seem puny if matched at the same distance against such brilliant stars as Rigel, which is 15,000 times more luminous.

Washington Loses Glow As Economic Stronghold

By PAUL WELLS

SEATTLE (AP) — Few spots glowed brighter on the nation's economic map in 1968 than Washington state. Now a scant two years later, few are bleak.

This is particularly true in the Seattle area, home of Boeing Co., world's largest builder of commercial jetliners.

For four months the state has had the second highest unemployment rate in the United States—second only to Alaska and double the national average. June unemployment exceeded 110,000 out of a statewide work force of 1.4 million. The seasonally adjusted rate was 8.6 per cent. A year ago it was 2.2 per cent.

But in the Seattle metropolitan area, where 1.8 million of the state's 3.339 million residents live, things were worse.

Economists and Mayor Wes Uhlman believe the area unemployment rate may climb from its present 10 per cent to 15-17 per cent during the winter, pushing the number of jobless to around 110,000.

100,000 On Welfare

"Already King County (Seattle) has more than 100,000 out of a population of 1.13 million on welfare in some form or another," Uhlman said. "That figure will increase as those drawing unemployment compensation use up their benefits."

What sent the state's economy into a critical tailspin?

Boeing, mainly. Its unexpectedly sharp cutbacks, forced by declining jetliner sales and failure to win the B1 supersonic manned bomber and other U.S. government contracts, have been particularly traumatic.

As Washington's largest single employer, Boeing has been the state's prosperity weather-vane.

Other Industries Slump

The state's second biggest industry, lumber and wood products, also has been in the doldrums because of the depressed housing market. Employment dropped from 66,800 in March 1969 to 62,600 in May 1970. Agriculture, the state's third mainstay, has been weak except for livestock.

Because the federal tight-money squeeze on the inflation balloon has had heavy impact on transportation and housing, the effect on this area, which relies strongly on both, has also been great—greater, say area spokesmen, than in other parts of the country.

A ray of sunshine penetrated the economic clouds with the announcement Wednesday that Boeing had won a 2 billion contract to develop the Airborne Warning and Control System known as AWACS.

Economic Lift

The immediate lift from the contract will be mostly psychological, however, because the first phase will only increase the number of Boeing employees assigned to the program to 1,500 from 200, all from transfers within the company. The big impact would come from full-scale production, possibly four years away, when AWACS employment in the area would reach 9,000.

Boeing cuts have been across the board, affecting high-salaried management and technical personnel as well as production workers.

There are big traffic jams daily near the State Employment Securities Department building, where the jobless draw unemployment checks. Luxury cars can be seen among jalopies parked at the curbs.

Layoff Absorbed

Until the start of 1970, other manufacturing industry in the Puget Sound area was able to absorb the 20,000 lopped off by Boeing last year. But the fallout from this year's heavy Boeing cutbacks has affected both manufacturing and service industries, and they have taken a downward turn.

Shipbuilding, the area's second largest teavey industry, has dropped more than 2,000 from a high of nearly 9,000 workers. Stores have laid off hundreds of clerks. Residential construction in May was off 70 per cent to $6 million from a year earlier with permits for apartment house construction down 93.4 per cent.

Besides the new AWACS contract, two other bright spots can be found. The Seattle waterfront with some 18,000 full-time, year-around jobs, is bustling as foreign trade continues to grow. And tourism, which brought $375 million into the state in 1969, is up by about 20 per cent.

DNR Suspends Oil, Gas Leases

HIGGINS LAKE (AP) — The State Natural Resources Commission, meeting Friday at Higgins Lake, voted to suspend any further leases of state lands for oil and gas prospecting until next Jan. 1.

The commission, bowing to a legislative resolution, also agreed to ban the hunting of does and fawns in the Upper Peninsula during the Nov. 15-30 deer season.

Residents of the northern Lower Peninsula had expressed concern that the booming competition for oil and gas leases might result in damage to the environment and hurt the area's tourist industry.

The commission adopted a six-point policy statement on the issue. The points:

—The temporary freezing of all oil and gas leases until Jan. 1 to allow a thorough review of all state policies.

—A study of the leasing program to be made by a committee composed of representatives of the department, the Senate Conservation and Tourist Industry Committee and the House Conservation and Recreation Committee.

—Revision of oil and gas rules so those covering private lands would be as restrictive as those for state lands.

—Consideration of discontinuing leasing of any lands in watershed areas without approval of the board of commissioners of the counties affected.

—Changing the makeup of the State Oil Advisory Board from six to nine members with the provision that four of the members be selected from the general public and not be associated with the oil industry.

A requirement that 30 days advance written notice of any proposed state oil and gas lease sale be given the affected township boards, county boards of commissioners, state representatives and senators and to the general public by legal notice in a county weekly newspaper for three or four consecutive weeks.

THE ELLIOTT HOUSE AT SACK BAY is Delta County's most photographed eye-catcher of the gingerbread style. Besides its beauty, it has historic interest, for it was the home of the Samuel Elliott family, county pioneers. Now owned by the William Thills of Fayette it is being restored and preserved. The Elliotts insisted the wood trim be called "pine lace" rather than gingerbread.

THE GAZEBO ON THE FRONT PORCH is a feature of the house owned and occupied by the Edward O'Learys of 303 Stephenson Ave., although there is also a considerable amount of gingerbread decorating the peaks of the two-story structure. Gone, however, is some of the fancy iron-work popular back in 1904 when the house was built. It was for many years the Edward P. Johnson home.

THIS DECORATIVE MILLWORK is at a residence at 1711 2nd Ave. N., occupied by Mrs. Marge Lancour and her family. The dwelling is owned by John Chylek, proprietor of John's Northland Store at 229 Stephenson Ave., who says:

"That's really something to paint!" Chylek believes that both the store building and the dwelling with its gingerbread decoration are old structures and were moved to their present locations from another part of town.

THIS HOUSE WAS BUILT about 60 to 70 years ago, says its owner, George Fisher, who has lived in it for 17 years. The home is located at 201 S. 17th St., was built originally by the Wilson Lumber Co., and now preserves some of the ornate trimming that made the "gay nineties" truly gay. Architecturally, that is.

Save That Gingerbread!

In the period beginning about the 1860's and continuing to the turn of the century, "gingerbread" trim was necessary to make a house into a fashionable home.

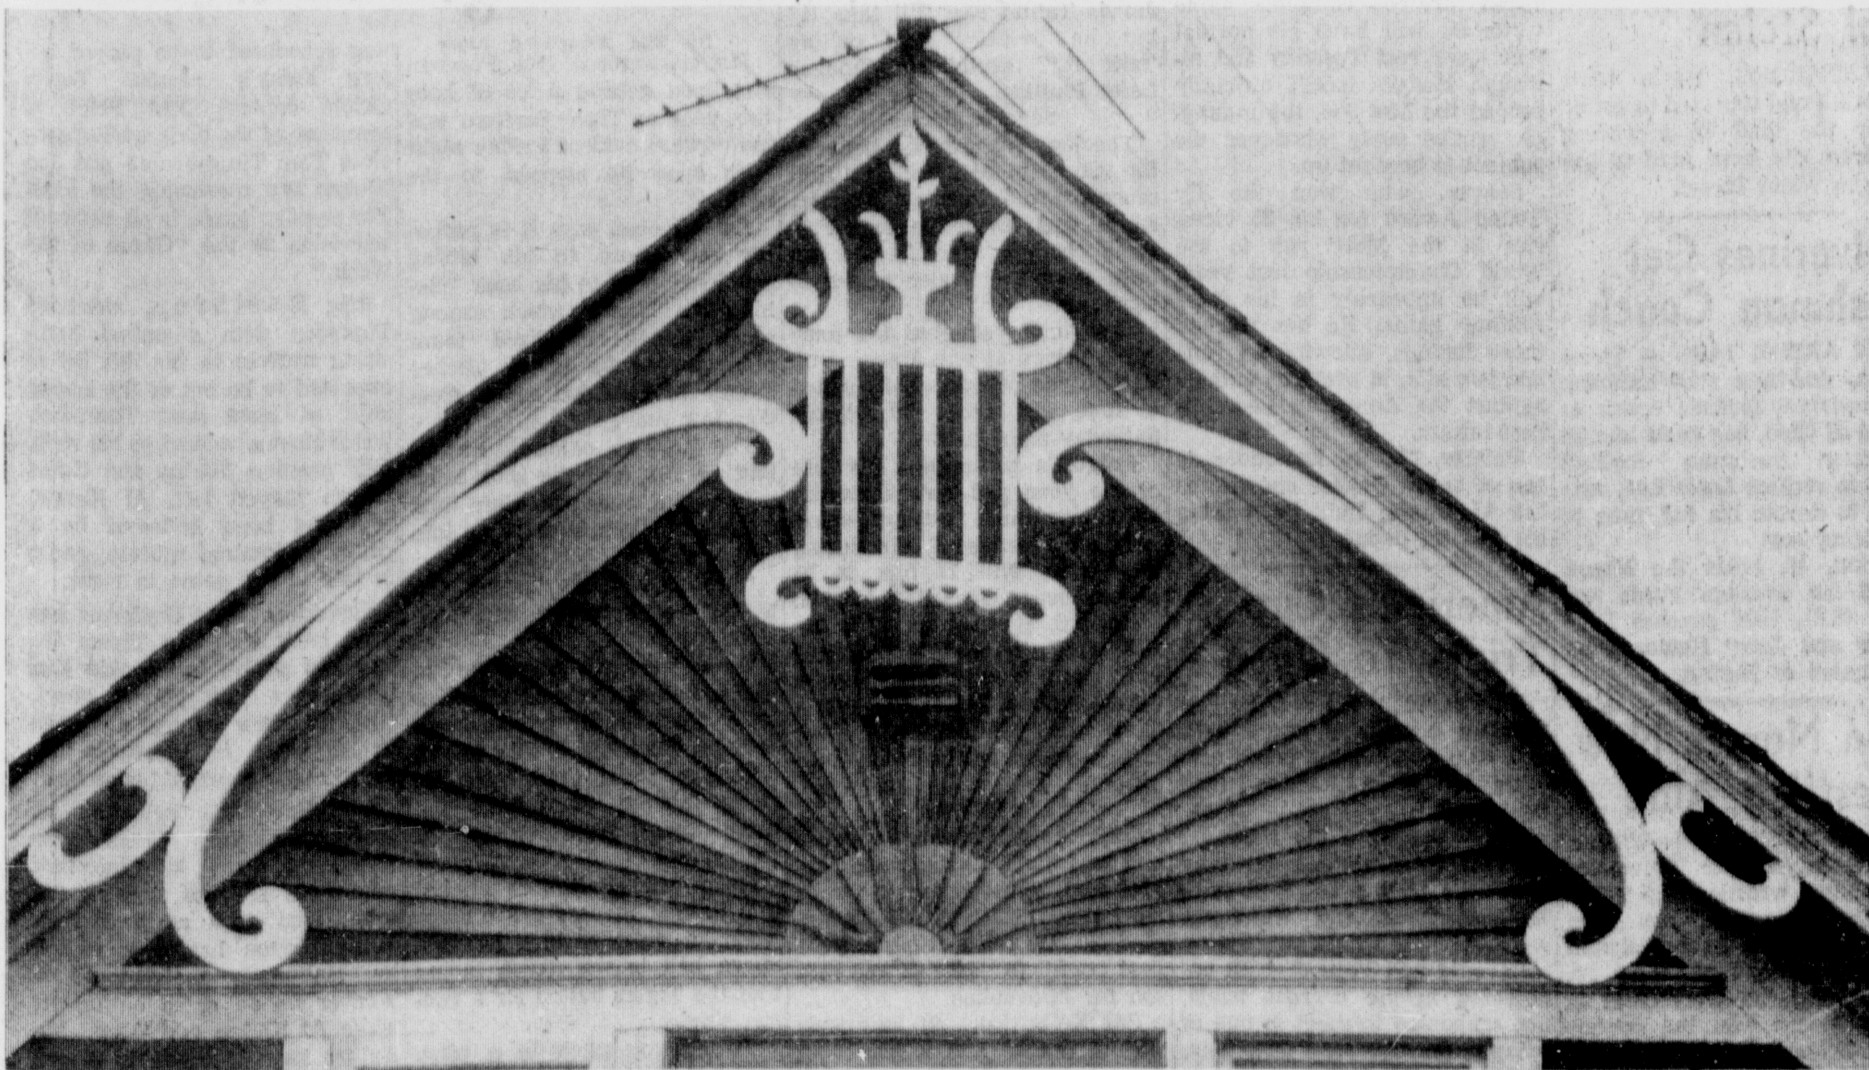

Bernie Schultz, Daily Press photographer, has captured on film some of the remaining examples in Delta County.

Since he made these pictures, at least one piece of architectural fancywork is gone, carted to the dump with the razing of the house to make way for a new structure. But most of the others are being preserved and restored by their proud owners.

Decorators have revived the charm of Art Nouveau and the Victorian — why not an architectural revival of the gingerbread era?

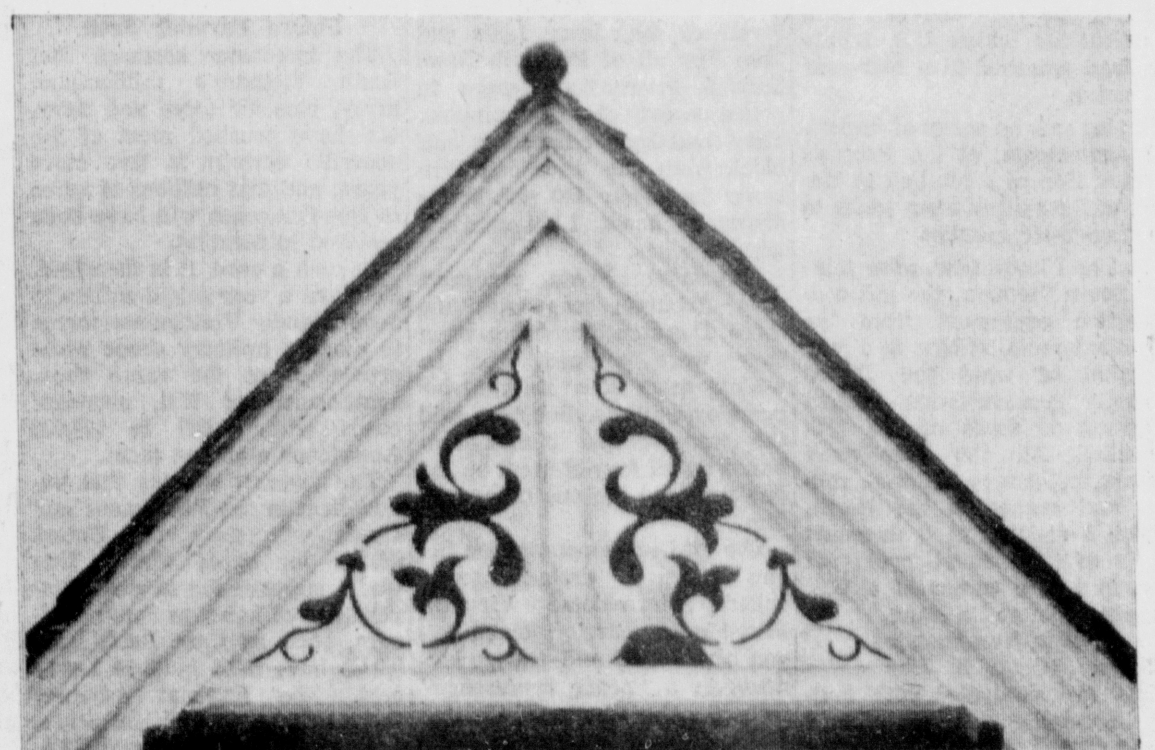

FOR MORE THAN 80 YEARS this home at 318 N. 14th St. has been occupied by members of the Pearson family, descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Pearson. Built to generous proportions (ceilings are 10 feet high) the home was once graced by a tower, which was later removed. Residents of the Pearson home are Miss Esther Pearson and Mrs. Fred Pearson.

THE OLD IS TOPPED by the new in the ornate gable of the Thomas C. LaFave home at 329 S. 13th St., where a television antenna is visible above the harp motif. Described as "the old Clairmont home," the residence is reportedly nearly a century old. The fan-shaped decoration and the wood scrolls make it among the most graceful in the Escanaba area.

ONE OF ESCANABA'S OLDER HOMES in this one at 601 S. 11th St., owned and occupied by Peter Botrow. But it was not always at that location, for it was moved there many years ago from where Home Supply store now is at 11th and Ludington. Botrow, who has lived in the house for 21 years, says he hasn't painted that fancy wood trim in 16 years. The house was built about 1882.

GEORGE COPPESS SPENDS A LOT OF TIME on horseback in the supervision of his 1,200 acre beef farm on the Garden Peninsula. He's riding "Brownie," a modern-day cow pony that puts in many hours cutting and rounding up cattle on the Garden Cattle Co.'s ranch. Coppess keeps a busy schedule and (right) he is pictured feeding a group of last year's top heifers which he has kept for herd replacement.

Farm Tour To Visit Garden Beef Ranch

The Garden Cattle Company, a beef operation, run by George Coppess, will be the first of a three stop U.P. farm management tour, Saturday, Aug. 1. The tour will be held this year on Delta County's Garden Peninsula.

Coppess was born in Illinois and moved to Eaton County, Mich., as a youth. For several years he was involved in general livestock farming in southern Michigan. In 1959 he moved to Garden to become manager of a cow-calf beef operation, called the Garden Cattle Company. The company is owned by Coppess and LeRoy and Eldon Flessner. The Flessner's operate a beef feeding farm at Woodland near Lake Odessa.

When Coppess moved north, he brought along 100 Hereford heifers from good quality Wyoming stock. Some of those original animals are still on the farm more than 10 years later. The herd now numbers 232 cows with the same number of calves plus 42 selected heifers kept from last year's calf crop for herd replacement, and a few bulls.

Uses Crossbreeding

The farm comprises 1,200 acres, of which 200 acres are planted to hay and 45 acres to oats. The remainder (955 acres) is in pasture. An additional 350 acres are rented: 130 acres in hay, 20 acres of oats, and 200 acres of pasture.

An outstanding manager, Coppess handles most of the farm work with part-time help. At haying time and during artificial breeding, additional help is required.

Coppess has used crossbreeding with Charolais, Short-horn, Angus and Hereford bulls to get better quality calves. For the past several years most of the cows have been bred artificially. In 1969 Coppess began using Simmental and Brown swiss in his cross breeding program. This year he plans to add Limousin. Both Simmental and Limousin are European breeds that are only available by means of semen and used in his artificial breeding program.

Pasture Rotation

Artificial breeding is carried out during a 20-day period in July. Coppess uses clean-up bulls to service cows in heat after that period.

The cattle are fed outside in a winter lot from December through May. Each animal receives 25 to 30 pounds of hay per day. For the rest of the year, they are rotated from pasture to pasture on a 10-day to two week schedule. Each 200-400 acre pasture lot has a water supply for the cattle.

Calving time begins in April. Cows about to calve are put into a separate lot near the Coppess house where they can be watched by Coppess or his wife, Margaret. When a calf is born it is weighed and ear tagged as a means of keeping records. The navel is treated against infection and the calf is de-horned. As soon as the calf is strong enough to walk around the mother with her off-spring is put out to pasture. This is done as a precaution against infection that often happens when too many cattle are held in confined quarters.

Bull calves are castrated and implanted with hormones when they are about 4-5 weeks old. This increases rate of gain and improves feed efficiency.

Has 1,200 Acres

Detailed records are kept for each animal on the farm. Coppess uses freeze-branding to identify his cows and employs ear tags to keep track of the calves.

Each fall the calf crop, minus top heifers which are kept for replacement, is shipped to the feed lot end of the operation at Woodland. Here the cattle are fed to market weight.

In the ten years since Coppess came to the Garden Peninsula, his farm has increased from 760 acres to 1,200 and his livestock numbers from 100 to almost 500 — ample reason why the ranch should provide an interesting stop for farm management tour visitors.

Other stops on the tour are the Garth Briggs certified bean seed farm near Fayette and historic Fayette State Park.

$30 Billion U.S. Dollars 'Doing Wonders' In Asia

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Of The Associated Press

It's fantastic to see what $30 billion a year buys for the United States in South Vietnam.

You can watch a million of those dollars go bang in just one mission by B52s. They've been flying 2,500 missions a year in South Vietnam.

The average mission consists of six Stratofortresses dropping a total of 180 tons of high explosives, from six miles up, on a patch of ground the flight crew knows by map coordinates.

Dollars Are 'Lifeblood'

But American dollars are South Vietnam's lifeblood in ways that go beyond the high cost of waging war with 413,900 Americans and more than a million Vietnamese under arms.

Vietnam foreign trade? It runs a deficit of more than $700 million yearly. The United States picks up the tab—all of it.

National employment? There are 150,000 Vietnamese and 20,000 "third-country nationals" on American payrolls. Together with their dependents, about 750,000 civilians. The cost is more than $400 million yearly, right out of the U.S. Treasury.

Every give-away program of the Saigon government is financed by the United States. The programs proliferate. New Life Development. Open Arms. Handclasp. Land for the Tiller. Work for Peace. All are part of the political war.

Red Equipment Around

Last February in North Vietnam, I saw relatively large amounts of equipment from the Soviet Union and China for repairing the road and rail communications which U.S. bombers had smashed in a four-year offensive.

I also saw an array of imported armaments, at the People's Armed Forces exhibition in Hanoi, which ranged from tanks to surface-to-air missiles.

But as I know now, after touring South Vietnam, the gift construction equipment from the so-called socialist bloc is a tiny fraction of what the United States reconstruction effort amounts to south of the 17th Parallel. All the Sino-Soviet trucks, bulldozers, graders, rollers and cranes in the North, which I counted in a thousand miles of road travel, could get lost in just a corner of a U.S. supply depot at Da Nang.

Depots Well Supplied

Supply depots in four corps areas are stockpiled with multimillion-dollar reserves of new military and civilian equipment materials. Seaports are congested with shipping. On the dock, you see mountains of rice from Louisiana and pine lumber from Oregon, with other U.S. products.

South Vietnam imported $745 million of commercial items alone in the past year. Its exports amounted to $16 million. The deficit, equivalent to $40 for each of 17.8 million Vietnamese, was entirely covered by the United States.

Backed by U.S. aid, the Saigon government is distributing a special gift of 1 million plasters to every country village for a public works project of its own choice. This program will cost more than $18 million if completed. There are 2,517 villages.

War Boom Grips Cities

Another program promises cash to millions of Vietnamese for new housing, besides welfare allotments for food and clothing. The sums are small for individual war victims, refugees, and Viet Cong defectors. Cumulatively, they have exceeded $100 million.

A feverish war boom grips all the cities at the back door of American logistics bases. In the shops, foreign perfumes, liquors, textiles, watches and other luxuries beckon. But the slums are growing.

The austerity of life in North Vietnam, which I observed for 18 days last February, bears little resemblance to the colorful, noisy, mechanized existence that South Vietnamese are pursuing.

Hanoi seemed in a quiet reverie. The center of Saigon has more raucous taxis to the block than Times Square at midday. You can see the affluent getting rich. Nearly everybody is scrambling for a piece of the action. Some worry, of course, that the boom will bust.

No Way To Compare Cost

There is no precise way to compare the cost of the United States' investment in South Vietnam with what the Soviet Union and Red China have spent to help North Vietnam.

An executive in the U.S. defense industry has estimated that the cost ratio is probably about 100 for 1 for arms alone; that is, $50 billion of U.S. armaments thrown into the war versus $500 million from Russian and Chinese stockpiles.

A private forecast circulating in American official circles in South Vietnam says current U.S. expenditures at the rate of $30 billion a year for the war could be trimmed to $5 billion in 1975, if Vietnamization is a success.

Future Farming Seen

The forecast assumes that South Vietnam's million-man army, plus air force and navy, will have crushed most of the guerrilla activity in five more years, and that millions of acres in free-fire zones will have been restored to farming.

In such a case, it is theorized, $5 billion a year might suffice to keep friendly Vietnamese forces in modern military shape while providing, at the same time, continuance of U.S. strategic bases with 50,000 to 100,000 Americans manning them.

The forecast expects that nationalism in the Philippines and Japan will deny the United States its bases there. This would increase the strategic importance of bases in South Vietnam, such as Cam Ranh Bay, which have been built at heavy cost. The forecast assumes there will be no political settlement that would bring all U.S. troops out in the near future.

Retention of the bases for an indefinite period, it is said, "would be in the best interest of the United States and constitute a reassuring influence on non-Communist governments in Asia."

Police Arrest 2 U.S. Newsmen In S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Government police breaking up a student demonstration with tear gas today arrested three American newsmen—two of them wearing black arm bands given them by the students.

Two other newsmen, Jed Duval of CBS and George Watson of ABC, said they were beaten by plainclothesmen in front of the National Assembly.

The arrested newsmen—John Steinbeck 4th, Jerry Liles and Tom Fox all of Dispatch News Service International—were in police custody about 90 minutes. They had been stopped a half block from the American Embassy just after 200 riot police dispersed about 1,500 students with tear gas.

Associated Press newsmen Carl Robinson was with the three Dispatch newsmen when they were stopped, but he walked away after showing his press credentials. Robinson said the students had pinned arm bands on all four of them but he had removed the one pinned on him.

The student demonstration began after an antiwar group called International Vietnam Fact-Finding Mission joined Saigon high school and college students in a "peace conference" rally. Speakers included Charles Palmer, president of the National Student Association of the United States, who condemned the U.S. government for supporting President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Seven students were arrested, but later demonstration leaders said they had all been released.

2 Women Demand Marriage License

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP) — Two women whose application for a marriage license was rejected this week filed suit in Jefferson Circuit Court Friday seeking to force the county clerk to issue it.

Clerk James Hallahan rejected the application of Marjorie Ruth Jones, 39, and Tracy Knight, 25, on advice from county Atty. J. Bruce Miller.

Miller said a U.S. Supreme Court decision allowing Utah to forbid polygamy among Mormons is applicable to the case in that the marriage of persons of the same sex is against the nation's social, ethnic and public policy.

He conceded, however, that nothing in Kentucky law specifically forbids such a marriage, and this is the basic contention of the women's suit.

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP) — Diane Pond reported to police Friday the theft of a wading pool from the front yard of her home on Water Street.

Wolverines Get Freshman Coach

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Tirrel Burton, one-time star halfback and assistant football coach at Miami of Ohio, has been named Michigan freshman football coach to replace Louie Lee, who plans to devote his full time to practicing law.

Burton, 40, holds the Miami record for average yards per carry (8.8). U-M coaches Dick Hunter and Jerry Hanlon were teammates of Burton.

U-M Names New Wrestling Aide

ANN ARBOR (AP)—William Johannesen, former University of Michigan wrestler who was a Big Ten champion, has been appointed U-M's new assistant wrestling coach. Johannesen, 26, wrestled for the Wolverines in 1964-65-66 and won the conference 137-pound championship his junior year.

Meanwhile, Roy Pindara, assistant football coach at Wayne State University, has been WSU's acting wrestling coach for 1970-71. He replaces Bob Hurley, who resigned in May.

Angels, Fregosi Sideline Twins

By The Associated Press

"That game was important for two reasons," declared California Angels shortstop Jim Fregosi.

The Angels had just beaten the Minnesota twins 2-1 Friday night to stick five games behind them in the American League's Western Division race and Messersmith had struck out a career high of 13 batters.

Fregosi's two-run homer in the first inning provided all the scoring offense for the winners. The veteran boosted his runs-in-record total to 47, matching his total for the entire 1969 season.

Seaver, Palmer To Be Starting All-Star Foes

By The Associated Press

Opposing All-Star Managers Gil Hodges and Earl Weaver will open with their own ace Tuesday night with New York's Tom Seaver and Baltimore's Jim Palmer the starting pitchers in the 41st annual baseball All-Star Game.

Set in Cincinnati's spanking new Riverfront Stadium—the first ball park to be entirely covered with an artificial surface—the mid-summer clash of the two leagues is expected to attract an overflow crowd of more than 51,000 with millions more watching on national television (NBC).

Seaver, 14-5 with a string of seven straight complete game victories, will have his normal four days rest Tuesday and although Hodges hasn't officially named the Met ace, the manager smiles coyly whenever the subject is brought up.

Seaver, who won the Cy Young Award for his 25 victories in the Mets' run to the World Championship last year, will be appearing in his third All-Star game. He has pitched three innings, allowing no runs and two hits, in previous outings against the American League's best hitters.

Palmer, 12-6 for Baltimore, is one of seven Orioles chosen for the AL squad. He'll be making his All-Star debut.

Set in Cincinnati's spanking new Riverfront Stadium—the first ball park to be entirely covered with an artificial surface—the mid-summer clash of the two leagues is expected to attract an overflow crowd of more than 51,000 with millions more watching on national television (NBC).

Seaver, 14-5 with a string of seven straight complete game victories, will have his normal four days rest Tuesday and although Hodges hasn't officially named the Met ace, the manager smiles coyly whenever the subject is brought up.

Seaver, who won the Cy Young Award for his 25 victories in the Mets' run to the World Championship last year, will be appearing in his third All-Star game. He has pitched three innings, allowing no runs and two hits, in previous outings against the American League's best hitters.

Palmer, 12-6 for Baltimore, is one of seven Orioles chosen for the AL squad. He'll be making his All-Star debut.

America's Cup Trials To Open

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Weather permitting, the America's Cup observation trials continue today on Rhode Island Sound.

Fog caused the second straight cancellation Friday with the yachts Intrepid, Valiant, Heritage and Weatherly waiting in the wings.

Intrepid and Valiant, both undefeated in the current trials, are scheduled to meet in one of today's pairings and Heritage, first southern yacht in contention to defend the Cup, will meet Weatherly.

Regardless of the number of postponements, the New York Yacht Club said this series will end July 18.

Mays Nears Hit Plateau

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays, poised on the threshold of one of baseball's greatest achievements, needs only a hot weekend against the Houston Astros to celebrate the 3,000-hit plateau in Tuesday night's All-Star Game at Cincinnati.

Mays, who'll be the starting center fielder for the National League All Stars, cracked two hits Friday night in San Francisco's 8-5 victory over Houston. That left him with a career total of 2,994—six away from the magic 3,000 mark.

When Willie gets there, he'll be the 10th player in history to reach 3,000 hits and the second this season. Hank Aaron of Atlanta made it on May 17 and now has 3,043. He'll be in right field alongside of Mays Tuesday night which helps explain why the NL rates as 7-5 favorite.

In other National League action Friday, Montreal stood off New York 9-7, Pittsburgh whipped St. Louis 6-2, Chicago blanked Philadelphia 2-0, Los Angeles topped San Diego 9-7 and Atlanta split a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning 11-9 before losing 3-1.

Hunt Hits

Mays drove in two runs and scored one for the Giants and Ron Hunt cracked four hits including a two-run single that put the Giants in front for keeps.

Relievers Mike Davison and Jerry Johnson nailed down the victory with clutch pitching. Davison pitched out of a sixth inning jam and worked two scoreless innings. Then Johnson bailed him out of trouble in the eighth and finished up.

Coco Laboy cracked two doubles and a single to drive in four runs and some clutch relief work by Claude Raymond helped Montreal end New York's seven-game winning streak.

The Mets had whittled a five-run Expo lead down to two and had the bases loaded with one out when Raymond came on the shut off an eighth inning rally. After Montreal added two more runs in the ninth, the Mets loaded the bases against Raymond again, but the veteran reliever pitched his way out, allowing only one run to score.

Pirates Close In

It was Montreal's sixth victory in 10 tries against the Mets this year—the best record any NL club has against the defending world champions. Pursuing Pittsburgh took advantage of New York's loss to chop one game off the Met NL East lead by beating St. Louis.

Al Oliver's ninth inning homer broke a tie and the Pirates rushed three more runs across—two on a triple by reliever Dave Giusti, who won his sixth straight game.

The victory moved the red-hot Pirates to within one-half game of the Mets. Pittsburgh has won eight of the last 10 and 5 of the last 19 to surge into contention.

Ferguson Jenkins fired a five-hitter and struck out 11 as Chicago blanked Philadelphia.

The Cubs scored both their runs in the second inning when Jim Hickman opened with a single and scored on Ron Santo's double. Cleo James sacrificed Santo to third and Johnny Callison delivered the run with a single.

McLain Wasn't Around When Turmoil Began

By The Associated Press

Denny McLain may have a "bad boy" image, but he wants people to know he didn't contribute in any way to Thursday night's wild, umpire - protesting episode at Tiger Stadium.

"I was listening to the game on the radio in the clubhouse and when I heard what was going on I ran to the bench to see who was going to get hit," grinned the Detroit Tiger pitcher.

"All I know is I didn't have anything to do with it," he added laughingly.

He referred to the sixth inning of Detroit's 7-3 victory over Boston during which Red Sox pitcher Mike Nagy, catcher Gerry Moses, and benchwarmer George Thome were ejected by umpires for bitterly protesting a ball-four call. Subsequently, the entire Red Sox bench was cleared for contributing to the protests.

McLain, 0-1, starting his third game since returning July 1 from a 90-day suspension, allowed just four hits in six innings and was not the pitcher of record.

He did allow a game leadoff homer by Dick Schofield which prompted him to remark about Tiger management recently assessing him $2.50 for every ball he hits into the stands deliberately at pregame warmups.

"It cost me another $2.50 tonight — Schofield's hit," he joked.

Wednesday McLain was angered at newspaper accounts of the assessments and said: "Does everybody think I'm Peck's Bad Boy or something?"

Wes Parker ripped two doubles and a triple, driving in three runs to lead a 16-hit Dodgers attack that built a 9-2 lead going into the ninth. Home runs by Ivan Murrell, Ed Spiezio and Dave Campbell knocked Bill Singer out and then Clarence Gaston rocketed a two-run shot off reliever Jose Pena before the Padres were finally retired.

Orlando Cepeda crashed a pair of two-run homers and Cleto Boyer also tagged one as Atlanta hung on to whip Cincinnati in the first game of their doubleheader. It was the third straight defeat for the Reds—their longest losing streak of the year—and the second straight loss in which they scored nine runs.

They ended that rut in the nightcap with reserve catcher Pat Corrales poking a two-run homer to break a scoreless tie in the ninth. Tony Cloninger worked eight shutout innings, allowing just four hits to earn the victory.

American Track Team Wins Meet

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — The Czechoslovakian track and field team concluded a three-meet tour of Ontario Friday night with a 17-event meet against Canadian and United States entrants at University of Windsor Stadium.

The Americans won 10 of the events, to four for the Czechs and three for the Czechs, who finished second overall. Point totals were: U.S., 103.5, Czechoslovakia 53.5, Canada 36. Jan Johnson of the University of Chicago Track Club, ranked third worldwide in the pole vault with a leap of 17-feet-11 inches, did not win the event Friday. Bob Barrett of the Ann Arbor, Mich., Track Club, won it with a vault of 15-6.

Signs Contract

FLINT (AP) — Coach Ken Hodge of the Flint Generals of the International Hockey League has signed a new contract for the 1970-71 season. The 23-year-old coach guided the Generals to a fourth-place finish in their inaugural season this year, missing the playoffs by six points.

'Chi Chi' Gains On GMO Leaders

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Juan "Chi Chi" Rodriguez is a world beater. He said so himself. "I'm playing as good or better than anyone in the world," Rodriguez said after posting a sparkling 67 in the second round of the $10,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Friday.

His five-under-par round gave the Puerto Rican a tie for third at 139, two strokes off the pace set by Don Massengale.

Jack Lewis and Ted Hayes, two youngsters on the tour, were just one stroke behind Massengale with 138.

Tied with Rodriguez were Jim Colbert, Deane Beman, rookie Jerry Heard and Harry Toscano. "I've added 40 feet on my drives since I got that new driver," Chi Chi said.

The new club has a round handle instead of one that had a flat side.

Another player who praised a new club was Lewis, a tour rookie from Florence, S.C.

"I found a bulls-eye putter three days ago," Lewis said,

"the kind I had as a junior player."

The putter apparently did the trick as Lewis turned in his second 69.

Seventy-nine players survived the cut at 146 on the 7,135-yard North Shore Country Club course. Among those that didn't was Dave Stockton, the 1968 GMO winner who carded a 73-77-150.

The defending champion, Ken Still, barely made the field when he posted a one-under-par 71 Friday for a 36-hole total of 145.

Among those still in the running are Kermi Zarley, winner of last week's Canadian Open, and Pete Brown, who defeated U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin for the San Diego Open crown in a play-off.

Many of the glamour names in golf, including Jacklin, Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, by-passed the Milwaukee tournament to play in the more prestigious British Open.

Beats Orioles 4-2

Can Cain Lift Tigers?

DETROIT (AP) — Can 22-year-old Les Cain, who didn't even start the season with Detroit, become the difference between "loser" and "pennant" for the Tigers this year?

If he keeps going the way he is that could very well be the case.

Cain extended his victory streak to eight games Friday night and put the Tigers within five games of first-place Baltimore as Detroit beat the Orioles 4-2 before 44,500 at Tiger Stadium.

It was the fourth straight win for second-place Detroit and 10th in the last 13 games. Both American League East Division teams were to meet today in the second of a critical four-game series, with Joe Niekro, 9-6, scheduled to pitch for the Tigers against Mike Cuellar, 10-5.

"If they come up with Cain, we'll come up with two others," said Oriole manager Earl Weaver, adding that whether Cain makes the difference between first or lower "all depends on us."

Top In League

"I always felt that if I became a starter I could be the difference on a team," said Cain, who is 9-2 since being called up from Detroit's Toledo farm club May 1 and now is the league's top percentage pitcher.

But the soft-spoken southpaw didn't want a sound like he was bragging and added: "If I can win I think the ball club can win. But it's the same case for any other pitchers who win."

He said his performance was his best of the year but it was his two-run single in the fourth that drove in what proved to be the winning run. On the mound he pitched a one-hitter for six innings before giving up two runs on three hits in the seventh.

"I take pride in my hitting," said the young hurler, nicknamed "Sugar." "I like to hit. . . Everywhere I played until I got here I used to pinch hit."

Tiger manager Mayo Smith conceded Cain was superb but said: "Before tonight he wasn't anything special, even with an 8-2 record. But tonight he was far his best and if he improves on that—well, he's on his way."

Went Homers

Don Wert started things off for Detroit with his second homer of the year for a 1-0 lead off Oriole ace Jim Palmer in the second.

Palmer, who is expected to be Weaver's choice to start for the AL All-Stars Tuesday in Cincinnati, gave up singles to Norm Cash and Wert in the fourth. Then he threw a hanging curve ball to Cain who poked it through the box for two runs, dooming Palmer to his sixth loss against 12 victories.

Cain, who is from Richmond, Calif., was replaced by hot-handed reliever Tom Timmerman in the seventh after the Orioles pulled within one run at 3-2. Singles by Dave Johnson and Andy Etchebarren, plus a walk to Bobby Grich, loaded the bases. Pinch hitter Curt Motton drove one run in with a fielder's choice and Don Buford singled in the other.

Timmerman didn't allow a hit in his 2 1-3 innings to pick up his 11th save. He has won two and saved 10 games in 14 appearances since being recalled from Toledo June 10.

MANISTIQUE

9 Area Youths At Bay Cliff

Nine Manistique-area youths are enrolled as campers at the Bay Cliff Health Camp in Big Bay with their seven-week stay paid for by contributions to the CBC Drive. Attending from Schoolcraft County are Carol Burns, Mark Carlson, Stephanie Ekdahl, Martin Holmberg, John Louis Jr., Darla Patz, Allen Reno, Louis Reno and Jeff Sabinash.

The Fourth of July holiday was a memorable day for the campers with an extra hour "sleep-in" and, following a late breakfast, relay races in which even the severely handicapped children took part. Prizes were awarded the winners.

The afternoon of July 4, the children took part in the annual camp parade into Big Bay with an all-camp picnic and recreation period following. The day ended with a fireworks display.

There are 197 campers enrolled in the non-profit summer camp for physically handicapped children which overlooks Lake Superior in northern Marquette County.

2 Persons Injured In Traffic Mishap

Two persons were injured in an accident Friday morning at 11:45 on U.S. 2 in Manistique Township. State Police said Stanford Grimes, 532 Oak St., driver of one of the cars, and Betty Chachick, Joppa, Md., a passenger in another vehicle, were taken to the hospital by Public Safety ambulance.

Troopers said the Grimes' vehicle, traveling east on U.S. 2, was making a left turn off U.S. 2 onto County Rr. 438 (Town Line Rd.) when a car operated by Justin Byers, Battle Creek, pulled out to pass a car directly in back of the Grimes automobile and struck the rear of the Grimes vehicle.

The Byers' car rolled over after the impact and the Grimes vehicle spun around, officers said. Both were extensively damaged and were towed by wrecker. Byers was ticketed for improper overtaking and passing. The injured woman was a passenger in the Byers' car.

TREE HOUSE

There is joy in the tree house nestled high in the boughs ... for the boys climbing up to play in it ... for the adults remembering the golden afternoons of their own childhood.

Sometimes grownups say wistfully, "I wish I were that age again." But do they really wish it? Being a child is wonderful, but maturing can be a painful process.

Help your children enjoy the precious childhood hours — never forgetting that they must grow up. Remember you have a never-ending source of guidance. The church will help your children preserve the spirit of youth and give them the wisdom, courage and faith that will sustain them through the rest of their lives.
